

COVID-19

Updated as of March 4, 2020

We are continuing to monitor this situation as it develops and are following the advice of our local health officials as well as the CDC. We are also having internal conversations on how best to continue to support our partner schools and districts.

NWEA service level/impact on our partners

We plan to maintain a high level of operations that continue our service level to our partner schools and districts. In addition to following preventative measures as recommended by the CDC, we're also:

- Providing remote work options for our employees, as needed.
- Monitoring travel restrictions and adjusting as needed depending on the circumstance.
- Monitoring event cancellations (for example national education conferences) and adjusting as needed.

Fusion – our education-focused conference

Plans for FUSION 2020 are moving forward. The conference is scheduled for late June in Denver, Colorado. We'll continue to monitor the situation and provide updates if plans change regarding Fusion.

If you're a current partner and have questions, please contact your NWEA account representative.
